

How Salesforce helped Power an Australian financial firm?

Challenge

- Company had Salesforce, but it wasn't being used effectively. Need for a cohesive system.
- Lack of provision to view or reallocate booked appointments.
- System did not allow client tracking for multiple services or duplicate clients.
- Lack of property tracking system - stock list, availability, construction progress.
- Lack of lead management system.
- No reporting system in place.
- Problem Areas: Data accuracy. Clients' satisfaction. Advisors' performance.

Our Solution

- Implemented an end-to-end sales process
 - Created work flow rule for appointment reallocation, to update lead wnership and to trigger multiple automated actions.
 - Used web-to-lead forms to capture leads
 - Setup duplicate client management for lead and client records.
 - Setup custom fields and created custom reports and dashboards
 - For appointments grouped by status and time.
 - To display status and progress of clients.
 - To track properties and their construction status.
 - Enabled lead source tracking and created a report to track it.
 - To track event and seminar costs.
- System built for Lightning Experience for easy visual navigation and to support customer-centric selling.
- Enabled tracking of current and historical properties

Client Background

- An Australian firm in the business of providing personal wealth management, property investment services and home loan assistance.
- Client notes taken by the sales team logged in manually by system admin. No data access to sales team.
- Use Salesforce, but not effectively. Need for a cohesive system.

- Created Conga Composer solutions to manage reports and documents, and automate the reporting process.
- Implemented Salesforce for Outlook (SFO) to sync leads, contacts, tasks and events between Salesforce and Microsoft Outlook for each user.
- Set up approval process for management / sales team.

Business Benefits

- Implemented a tailored Salesforce CRM solution that made tracking and analyzing the sales process easy and efficient.
- Using Salesforce's workflow capabilities enabled IT to accelerate delivery of new applications.
- Improved quality of data manifolds.
- Greatly increased productivity of sales staff.
- Better clients' experience and greater satisfaction.
